

Skype Lecture in Loyola Marymount University

The Clinical Professor of Jain and Sikh Studies at Loyola Marymount University, Dr. Nirinjan Kaur Khalsa, was honored to have Samani Rohit Pragya give a Skype Lecture to her undergraduate, upper division, Jainism class Wednesday March 9th on Asceticism and Anekantavada. The students very much appreciated both the content and delivery of the lecture, and particularly that it was given by a practicing nun gave them firsthand experience and a more in-depth understanding of ascetic practices. Students also had the opportunity to ask her questions and received well articulated responses.